EMS1 ATTAINS DIAMOND LEVEL OF NAEMT SPONSORSHIP

Clinton, Miss. — The National Association of Emergency Medical Technicians (NAEMT) is pleased to announce that EMS1.com has attained the Diamond Level of sponsorship with the association.

Sponsorship is vital in continuing NAEMT programs and services. Without the support of sponsors, NAEMT would not be able to continue to carry out its important mission of representing and serving EMS practitioners on a national level. Companies choosing to sustain NAEMT through sponsorship visibly demonstrate their support for the life-saving efforts of EMS practitioners throughout the nation.

Since its launch in 2007, EMS1.com has quickly become the fastest growing resource for current EMS news, analysis, products, services and research, with more than 50 product categories focused on providing EMS personnel with the information they need to make informed buying decisions on EMS items. The full EMS1 Network includes a range of sites covering specialized areas and interests within EMS, including Paramedic.com, ParamedicTV.com, EMSGrantsHelp.com and EMSConnect.com.

"EMS1 has always been focused on assisting key organizations within EMS, leveraging our skills with online content and marketing to help connect them with a broader segment of the EMS community," says Kris Kaull, NREMT-P, EMS1 Network Online Director. "We're proud to support the efforts of NAEMT to promote the EMS profession and create opportunities for its practitioners."

With more than 46,000 registered members and 175,000 monthly unique visitors, the EMS1 Network serves the emergency medical services community by providing paramedics, EMTs and first responders with the most complete range of information and resources available.

EMS1.com is owned and operated by the Praetorian Group, based in San Francisco. For information on EMS1.com, visit www.EMS1.com/about/.

“Collaboration among those serving EMS practitioners is more important today than ever,” says Patrick Moore, President of NAEMT. “We are grateful for the sponsorship support of EMS1 as we work together to best serve our constituency.”

Formed in 1975 and today more than 25,000 members strong, NAEMT is the nation’s only organization solely dedicated to representing the professional interests of EMS practitioners, including paramedics, emergency medical technicians, first responders and other professionals working in pre-hospital emergency medicine. NAEMT members work in all sectors of EMS, including government service agencies, fire departments, hospital-based ambulance services, private companies, industrial and special operations settings, and in the military.
